Paragraph-

After announcing a two-week ceasefire with Iran, US President Donald Trump said that it is a big day for World Peace. He said Tehran is ready to move towards reconstruction after weeks of heightened tensions.

In a statement, Trump announced a conditional two-week pause on planned military action, linked to Iran agreeing to reopen the strategically vital Strait of Hormuz. He said the United States would assist in managing maritime traffic and ensure stability in the region during this period.

Mr Trump added that discussions have progressed significantly, with a 10-point proposal from Iran forming the basis for a potential long-term peace agreement. He expressed confidence that most major issues have been resolved. Iran has signalled conditional acceptance of the pause, stating it will halt defensive operations if attacks cease. Reports also suggest that Israel has agreed to the temporary pause.

Q-6 Translate the paragraph in Gujarati/Hindi.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi quoted the words of Swami Vivekananda and said- as we gather at this important occasion, I am reminded of the powerful words of Swami Vivekananda, who once said, “Arise, awake and stop not till the goal is reached.” These words are not merely a call to action; they are a guiding philosophy for individuals, for societies, and for nations. India’s journey today is deeply inspired by this timeless message of confidence, courage, and continuous effort. Swami Vivekananda believed that the strength of a nation lies in the character and conviction of its people. He emphasized that real education is not just about information, but about building strength, character, and self-belief. In today’s rapidly changing world, these ideas are more relevant than ever. When India focuses on innovation, entrepreneurship, and skill development, we are, in essence, putting Vivekananda’s vision into practice—empowering our youth to become nation-builders.

In conclusion, Swami Vivekananda’s teachings are not confined to history books; they are living ideas that guide India’s present and future. By following his message of self-belief, service, and relentless pursuit of excellence, we are building an India that is strong, inclusive, and respected across the world. Let us continue to arise, awake, and move forward together—until our nation reaches its highest potential.
